DETROIT.

News items of interest to the deaf of Michigan may be addressed to Mrs. C. C. Colby, 329 Marquette Building, Detroit. Subscriptions will be received and forwarded to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

The first annual picnic of the local branch of the N. A. D. will be held at Palmer's Grove (Canada) on the Fourth of July. Yourself and your friends are cordially invited to attend. Various games will be indulged in, and a roaring good time is provided for everybody. Refreshments will be served at the Grove. Everybody is requested to come early to help win the 1920 N. A. D. Convention. Take Woodward Avenue, "Log Cabin" car and get off at Palmer Park. At the Palmer Park, the deaf automobile owners will offer their services in taking you and your supplies to the grove. The Committee in charge are R. H. McLachlan, Chairman, Frank Allera and A. R. Schneider.

The Committee has announced and planned some games of unusual importance for the merry crowd. Get ready for the picnic, the committee will ring it for the "N. A. D." Its success depends upon you, your presence and enthusiasm. And we are confident that the mosquitoes will keep away from you, on account of the movement of flying fingers and hands. Of course you are coming!

Mr. H. B. Waters, lay reader, conducted services at the chapel of St. John's, Sunday morning, June 9th. The theme was "Jesus Faces Betrayal and Denial," and the text was "watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation." The story of Judas Iscariot's temptation was given in detail. Among the visitors at the services were Miss Clara R. McCoy, hearing teacher of Oral Department of Flint School, and one of her pupils, Miss Bessie Bewing, who came home for the summer. Her parents are living on Cass Street, having moved to Detroit from New York last fall.

Robert Baird has left Flint, and secured a good job at the Ford Tractor Co., in Detroit. His boy friends are rejoiced to have him near them.

For the Liberty Girls of Detroit, a patriotic organization, is out with an appeal to all young girls, to refuse to accompany to any public resort or associate in any way with a man who cannot show his registration card or birth certificate. Without these, you walk alone over a lonesome road.

Otto Reinke, formerly of New Jersey, has secured work at the Griswold Motor Co. He came to Detroit two months ago, and likes the City of the Straits.

The D. A. D. had a business meeting Sunday afternoon, June 9th. Henry Furman was appointed secretary in place of William Behrendt, who resigned on account of being busily engaged in personal matters. A. Meek took the place as trustee which Roy Adams resigned. Several improvements are being made at the D. A. D. Hall. Four new high armchairs for the officers are being made and finished by some of the boys, who are carpenters. They have also ordered two new electric fans. Every thing will be in order for the Philadelphia Convention Social, 1902-1918, which will be held on Sunday afternoon and evening, June 23d, to be given by ex-convention delegates of Detroit Division, No. 2, N. F. S. D.

There are five deaf-mutes employed by the Fischer Aeroplane Co. They are A. R. Schneider, Irving Sohnlein, Verne Schneider, J. C. Chapman and C. Ladd of Missouri. Mr. and Mrs. Peter McNulty, formerly of Canada, are now domiciled at No. 808 Hudson Avenue. Mr. McNulty had a severe accident last January—struck by a street car. The pain in the left limb, especially the shoulder, has not been healed as yet.

At one time he returned from his work at midnight, but found his door key was missing. He tried several ways to arouse his wife from her sleep in an upper room, but to no avail. At last he tried a clothes pole, which brought her to the door. Alvert Siess, formerly of Owosso, frequents the meetings of the deaf in Detroit. He is employed at the Oakland Motor Co., at Pontiac.

No definite plans have been formed as yet for the picnic of the local No. 2, N. F. S. D., though it has reserved the date of August 11th.

Lester Swindlehurst, of Flint, is at Camp Custer. He was sent there April 26th.

John Kader was called to Taylorville, Ill., to see his sister, who is from Albany, New York. They have not seen each other for 18 years. On account of homesickness Geo. F. Tripp has given up his job at the Michigan Pattern Works, Detroit, and returned to his home in Flint. The local N. A. D. branch had hoped he would stay, as he is a "live wire" booster. George is now employed, as door hanger at the Dort Plant in Flint, where Henry Germer, Fred Lawrason and Otto Baby are employed.

Frank Friday, Jr., took a flying trip to Chicago and Rockford, Ill., for five days. He has a good position as an inspector in Ford Motor Co.

Arthur Finch, Martin Ciechocki, better known as "Cicho," and William C. Burgess have returned to work at the Ford, after visiting the Flint School, April 24th.

Theodore Liedberg and bride arrived in Detroit from Batavia, Ill., to spend their honeymoon trip. Teddy left his job at the Ford Motor Co., about a year ago, to accept a better position in his home town.

J. Bamer, of Canada, is working at the Detroit Ship building Co., in the department where his married son is foreman. Five other deaf-mutes are in the same department—Adolph Kresin, J. J. Walsh, Arthur Gagne, David Turill and Roy Ada.

Mrs. Japes is still in Illinois, enjoying picturesque Joliet, the birthplace of her mother. She met several mates while there. Mrs. John Gottschalk (Katherine O'Connell) is happily housekeeping and has four lovely grown-up daughters, who can talk the mute language fluently.

Miss Adah Newman, of Portland, Mich., is in the city visiting relatives and friends. She is a charming young lady and has made many friends. She attended the McMullen birthday party at the Colby's recently. She sent in her subscription to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL.

A party of friends met Thursday afternoon, June 6th, to help Mrs. W. Togel celebrate her birthday. All had a good time, as they always do when they go to Mrs. Togel. They left behind some valuable gifts.

Mrs. Adolph Kresin, of Port Huron, was called to Toledo, Ohio, by telegram saying her sister was very low. Her sister had been sick since having a stroke of paralysis in March.

Gregory Darling, brother of Mrs. Ivor Friday, died June 12th, after a long illness of leakage of the heart, at the home of his parents in Illinois, having gone there recently for his health. He was a member of the local Division, No. 2.

W. Heck, of Flint, is in the city looking for a job.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Scott recently returned to Detroit from a week's visit in Chicago.

A surprise party was planned upon Mrs. F. Allera at her home, Wednesday evening, June 5th, showering her with gifts. The guests report having a grand time.

Fourth of July will see a wonderful "Melting Pot" Celebration on Belle Isle. Representatives of every nationality in the city will assemble to pay their respects and pledge their loyalty to the United States.

This is the month that brings roses and rare days in June, and begins the season of picnics and Commencements.

The first of the picnics was that of the K. K. Club, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. August Heinze, on Sunday, June 2d. They are two members, who live near Weston, nine miles from Council Bluffs. Autos were sent for the members by the host and hostess, and as there had been frequent rains the preceding ten days, there was no dust to mar the ride. A rustic table and benches had been built on the lawn, and there the hostess and her assistants served a picnic dinner to about forty people. Some of these were neighbors and relatives of the Heinzes. After dinner a group picture was taken and a program of patriotic talks and recitations was given. The program follows:

"Columbia Calls"—Harry G. Long.

"On to Berlin"—Dr. J. S. Long.

"War Work and the Y. W. C. A."—Mrs. J. W. Barrett.

"The Red Cross Spirit Speaks"—Mrs. August Heinze.

"Origin of the Red Cross"—Mrs. Harold Lee.

Current Events—P. L. Axling.

"Some Facts About the Red Cross"—Z. B. Thompson.

Ice cream and cake were served at the close of the program, and the members gave a rising vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Heinze for this very pleasant outing.

On July 1st, 1917, the Iowa School for the Deaf went under the control of the State Board of Education, and it was rumored they intended making it a pure oral school. Three of the deaf teachers were dropped and also two other deaf employees. So while the change in the classification of the school was a reason for congratulation, it was not to the benefit of several individuals. However, we were glad to note that the motto of the school still is "to make the method fit the child, not the child the method." The following account of the graduating exercises is from the Council Bluffs Nepareil, June 6th:—

"A large crowd was in attendance at the graduating exercises of the Iowa School for the Deaf last night. An interesting program was rendered and nine young people who have completed the course of study were presented with diplomas. This year's graduates are: Harold William Nanson, valedictorian; James Riley Anthony, Bennie George Peshel, Arthur Lowell Howard, Esther Ellen Ramsden, Emma Olive Johnson, Helmina Kaspera Medalen, Myrtle Pearl Holmdahl, Myrtle Rona Lent.

Rev. G. D. Crissman pronounced the invocation, after which Superintendent H. W. Rothert made a few remarks setting forth the purpose and policy of the institution. He said: "This is a progressive school. Its motto is to make the method fit the child, not the child to fit the method. It uses both the oral and sign method of instruction. This year is the first that they have carried the oral instruction as high as the eighth grade, but expect to carry it up to the tenth grade hereafter."

The Aux Frats of Omaha Division No. 32, N. F. S. D., went over the top at their annual picnic given at Lake Manawa, Saturday afternoon, June 8th. The Box Social of the Aux-Frats, like Christmas, "comes but once a year." The ladies bring boxes containing lunch enough for two, which are sold at auction. On this last occasion they had a bigger crowd, and more boxes than ever before. After some races for prizes, a picture of the Kaiser was burned, after an amusing little ceremony. That was no place for a pro-German. If there had been one and he had protested against this lese majeste, we would have said, "What is the burning of a scrap of paper to the burning, shooting, and pillage by German soldiers of Louvain, Liege and other Belgian cities." But let us return to the picnic. A handsome ladies' parasol was raffled off and Mrs. Phil Axling was the holder of the lucky number 9. Now we arrive at the main feature, the "eats." Waldo H.

Rothert surpassed all his past efforts as an auctioneer, reminding us of the attitudes of Billy Sunday. Prices paid for the boxes ranged from $1.00 to $2.80. The prizes for the most artistically decorated box went to Miss Ethel Gallup. Coffee, ice cream, and sandwiches were sold by the Aux Frats, and after all the receipts were in, Mrs. Waldo H. Rothert, their chairman, announced the total proceeds of the picnic were $65.25. Great applause! The crowd then resolved itself into a mass meeting, with W. H. Rothert as chairman, to discuss plans for a general picnic on July 4th. The merits of several places were discussed, and being voted on Lake Manawa was the winner. A committee was appointed to prepare a program, and take charge generally. Remember the date, ye Iowans and Nebraskans, and the stranger within our gates. Come with your lunch baskets on July 4th, to Lake Manawa, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

AKRON, O.

Miss Mary Dumars, of Crystal Falls, Mich., expects to come to Akron very shortly to visit her sister, Mrs. Louis Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Williams have returned to their home in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Frank Kasmak has gone home to Pennsylvania for recuperation during the summer. He has worked at the Goodyear for the past three years.

Charles Young departed recently for Cleveland, where he has secured a position in a factory. He formerly worked at the Goodyear.

A. D. Martin, teacher of the Goodyear factory School for the Deaf, has gone to Kentucky, where he will visit his parents, whom he has not seen for about three years. He will then go to the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf Convention at Philadelphia, July 1st to 6th. He expects to return to Akron July 8th.

Tom J. Blake and K. B. Ayers, and several deaf friends, will undoubtedly go to Philadelphia to take in the Frats' Convention some time this month. Mr. Blake is president of Akron Division No. 55, N. F. S. D., and will try to land the next Convention for Akron, home of about 300 deaf workers. Here's hoping. The society will be three years old next November, and is growing fast. It has about 100 members up to date.

Prof. Luther Taylor, of Olathe, Kan., has taken a job in the Goodyear factory and expects to remain all summer. He is a teacher at the school for the deaf there. It is remembered that Mr. Taylor pitched for the New York Giants for a long time years ago. The veteran twirler will, no doubt, pitch for the Goodyear team this summer.

Mrs. Ralph Dann spent one day recently in Ravenna with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Willis E. Young and daughter Helen, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Benedict, motored to Massillon Sunday afternoon, to visit relatives.

Mrs. Frank Sickles, of Toledo, has recently secured employment in the Goodyear factory.

Rabbi Jacob Krohngold, who lives in Louisville, Ky., and is a brother of Marcus and Walter Krohngold of this city, will leave shortly for France, where he will enter the army service as Chaplain.

The Goodyear news items seem to be more spicy and newsy than Akron news I gather for the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL from Akron.

Connecticut.

HENRY P. CORLESS

Henry P. Corless, aged 48 years, was found dead in bed at his home at No. 169 Queen Street, Bristol, June 10th, having died during night. Dr. T. G. O'Connell was summoned, but as life was extinct, Medical Examiner Dr. A. S. Brackett was notified, who gave permission for the preparation for burial. He was employed at the American Silver Company for many years and was a deaf-mute. He leaves a deaf wife and two sons, William and James.

Mr. Corless formerly attended the Clarke School at Northampton, and Mrs. Corless was a pupil at the Hartford School. He was a member of the Benevolent Society for the Deaf of Connecticut.

The Connecticut Chapter of the Gallaudet College Alumni Association held an ice cream festival on the grounds of the Hartford School Saturday, June 8th. There was a baseball game in the afternoon, and stereopticon slides were shown in the evening at the Church of the Redeemer. Walter Durian, H. D. Lee Clark and Walter Rockwell were the committee in charge.

N. Y. Allied Deaf Organizations.

At a meeting of the Allied War-Savings Society of the Deaf held at the rooms of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League on Wednesday evening, June 12th, with the officers and nearly all the representatives of the several organizations present, it was decided to have a Ball some time before the end of the year, and with fourteen organizations participating it ought to be a rousing success. Marcus L. Kenner is Grand Chairman with the following assistants:

Artists.....Mr. Meinken
Brooklyn Guild.....Mr. McLaren
Clark.....Mr. Friedwald
Luthers.....Mr. Berg
Knights De l'Epee.....Mr. O'Donnell
L. E. S.....Mr. Capelli
Ladies De l'Epee.....Miss Burns
Men's Club.....Mr. Haberstroh
N. F. S. D.....Miss S. Purin
Sisterhood.....Mr. Lubin
S. W. J. D.....Mr. Bonner
W. P. A. S.....Mrs. Bothner
Xavier Allied.....Miss Chanler

This Committee gives every organization a representative, and it is intended that all profits will be invested in War Stamps, and that the admission to the Grand Ball will be one dollar per person. A twenty-five cent thrift stamp will be given each purchaser of a ticket. Organizations will share in the profits on the basis of ratio of sales of tickets.

Young Ladies representing the organization will sell thrift stamps at the several picnics hereabouts this summer.

The Rev. Mr. Amateau sent notice through the Secretary that previous announcement that the S. W. J. D. was to be represented by Mr. Haberman was unofficial, and that gentleman had so announced himself at the first meeting without authority. Mr. Amateau asked that this be announced at the meeting and published, and also that the S. W. J. D. representatives were to be Messrs. Lubin and Souweine, but the former announced that he preferred to stay in as the N. F. S. D. representative, and Mr. Souweine's resignation as a representative was also announced, he giving as a reason his being an out-of-town resident, and unable to give the time necessary.

Enthusiasm and interest continues unabated, and the delegates all were so sure that the slogan "Brooklyn by New York" was informally adopted. There will be no further meetings until Fall, unless Chairman Kenner finds it expedient to call a meeting of the Ball Committee.

SAMUEL FRANKENHEIM,
Chairman.

ALEXANDER L. PACH,
Secretary.

DEAF WOMAN IS BADLY
HURT BY AUTOMOBILE

MRS. WILLIAM REDMOND IS AT
HOSPITAL POSSIBLY WITH FRACTURED SKULL.

Mrs. William Redmond, of 671 Vaughn Street, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon at 3:10 o'clock, when she was run over by an automobile owned by J. E. Bonebright, of 228 East Fifth Street, and said to have been driven by his son, Kenneth Bonebright, on the Lake Shore Boulevard, near Lake Grove at Oswego Lake.

Mrs. Redmond, who is deaf, was crossing the road with a number of other deaf men and women and did not hear the machine, which is said to have been going at a high rate of speed. One of the wheels of the auto passed over Mrs. Redmond's head, resulting in a severe scalp wound, the fracture of one or more bones in the face, and possibly a fractured skull.

The driver of the machine picked up the injured woman and rushed her to the Portland Surgical Hospital, where she was reported to be in a serious condition this morning.

Portland, Ore., Telegram, May 27.

FANWOOD ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Saturday, June 15th, 1918, was Alumni Day at Fanwood.

The annual baseball game between the Alumni and the Fanwood teams was to have been played.

In the afternoon a crowd of graduates came up to witness the contest, but unfortunately the game had to be declared off, as the Institution Band, which now has become renowned throughout the city for its patriotic work during the Third Liberty Loan and the recent Second Red Cross drive, was asked to go to Ellis Island, to furnish music at a Field Day in connection with the opening of a Base Hospital. Of course the request could not be refused, and as most of the boys who belong to the Band are members of the Fanwood Baseball Club, that is the reason the game was cancelled.

Among the crowd that came up, there were enough ex-Fanwood ballplayers to make up more than two teams.

They got up two picked teams of graduates, captained by Frank Fluhr and Charles Scharzkin, and played a game, which furnished no end of amusement to the onlookers, owing to the reason that some who were supposed to be fine ball players made costly errors on plays that could easily have been made, and some fine play and hits made by players who while at school were not considered experts. Fluhr's team won in the tenth inning, by 9 to 8 runs.

In the evening the second meeting of the Alumni Association was held in the Chapel Hall.

There were present no more than at the first meeting, held May, 1917. Some claim that the small attendance is because the object of the Association has not been made clear, while others think that the eight-year and supplementary course graduates should have equal standing as the High Class graduates.

Dr. Thomas Francis Fox, the president, called the meeting to order.

Mr. Alexander L. Pach, the Secretary, read the minutes of the first meeting held May, 1917, and on motion were approved.

The Treasurer, Miss Myra L. Barrager, then announced that at the last meeting, and since then, fifty-nine members had joined the Association, and one at the present meeting had paid one dollar, making sixty dollars in the treasury.

Secretary Pach then read the names of the enrolled members, and at the conclusion sprang a pun, by saying that the Association was ahead of the great Heinz, who had 57 Varieties, whereas the Alumni had 59.

The President then invited Principal Gardner, who warmly welcomed one and all at their old alma mater, and concluded by wishing them a successful meeting.

Dr. Fox then addressed the Association on various subjects, among which was the membership question, in his opinion a very complex one, and on motion it was referred to the Executive Committee to adjust and decide same.

It was also decided to present annually a medal to a graduating member of the High Class, but as to design, cost, etc., it was also referred to the Executive Committee, who were to report to the Association at the next meeting.

The election of officers for the ensuing year then took place, and resulted as follows:—

President, Mr. Alexander L. Pach; Vice-President, Mrs. E. Souweine; Secretary, Mr. William H. Rose; Treasurer, Miss Myra L. Barrager (re-elected). Executive Committee, Rev. John H. Keiser, Mr. Max Miller, and Mrs. C. B. Thompson.

The President and Secretary were elected by ballot, the Treasurer by acclamation, and the other officers just by the raising of hands.

JULY

1-6-Philadelphia, Convention of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf

SEATTLE, WASH.

No, dear friend, all evidence to the contrary, Seattle is not dead, merely too busy building ships and helping Uncle Sam win the war to have time for regular correspondence in the JOURNAL.

Roy E. Harris, of Seattle, now holds the proud distinction of being the only deaf employee of an airplane factory in the west, if not in the whole country. Harris is employed by the Boeing Aeroplane Company of Seattle, and reports himself highly satisfied with his work and salary.

George Pinto, who figured in a motorcycle accident to the extent of a fractured skull and many bruises last January, is back at his old job as special messenger for the Western Union, at a salary of $155.00 a month.

State Organizer Garrison, of the N. A. D., spent several days in Seattle recently, and while here bulldozed several bright young men into seeing the right light and either joining or paying up their dues to the N. A. D. To be exact, ten paid up for a year in advance or joined. They are Roy E. Harris, Leonard Rassmussen, Roderick Campbell, Ralph Pickett, Paul Hoelscher, Thomas Mueller, Fred Eurnosen, W. S. Root, Mrs. W. S. Root and Bryan Wilson, all of Seattle.

W. S. Root, proprietor, manager and office boy of "Root's Printery," in Seattle, celebrated Memorial Day by having a fine new 10x15 Gordon Job press installed in his office.

Steadily increasing business has compelled Root to add to his equipment several times, and now with two presses and electric power plant, he is in a position to take care of his patrons' needs for some time to come.

The State Impostor chief announces himself "stumped," and has wired Director Meagher in Chicago for instructions. It all comes of from "the females of the species,"—being a poet, and trying to be chivalrous at the same time. Now, as everybody knows, Director Meagher is a poet, hence we hesitate to condemn anyone with the poetical loren, but friend Vincent, of Aberdeen, writes friend Root, of Seattle, that a good looking young woman has been passing around a card with several verses on it, marked, "price whatever you wish to give."

One side of the card bears the following:—

THE DEAF-MUTE
"Rendered almost helpless
By misfortune's cruel away,
These few words, I tender you
In a deaf-mute's plaintive way:

In the race for worldly honor,
Some will prosper, some will fail;
In the strife, the friendless mute will
Find her work of no avail.
So to smooth life's rugged journey,
This song I offer thee,
Hoping after you have read it,
You'll not forget my simple plea.

P. S.—I am selling this poem to secure an education that will fit me to operate a linotype machine and become self-supporting.

Now, gentle reader, can you blame us? We have a poet for Director and the impostors turning into poets and the poets into impostors. Good Lord, what a mix up! We can only wait for a solution to this problem from James Frederick.

Miss Edith Johnson, of Kent, and Mr. Oscar Larson, of Seattle, were quietly married a short time ago and are now at home to their friends in Seattle, after a short honeymoon trip in their Maxwell "Bug." (Note the "Bug" is painted a bright red color, very suitable for the occasion.)

Despite the War

People will have their vacations. Where are you going this summer? Come to Poughkeepsie; where there will be a "Summer Colony Club," for the deaf and their friends, at Locust Hall Farm. Mr. W. Renner, Fanwood, 1903, will be on hand to make your stay pleasant. Write for particulars, whether you can stay a week, a month, or the whole season. The cost will average between $8 and $10 per week.

Address: Locust Hall Farm, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

America—Sung by Choir and Audience
Led by the Institution Cadet Band

My country! 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died!
Land of the pilgrim's pride!
From every mountain side
Let freedom ring.

My native country, thee—
Land of the noble free—
Thy name I love;
I love the rocks and rills,
Thy woods and templed hills;
My heart with rapture thrills,
Lifted that above.

Our fathers' God! to thee,
Author of liberty,
To thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by thy might,
Great God, our King.

Benediction
Rev. Wm. Adams Brown, D.D.

Colors Dismissed To the Color

The Cadet Battalion was to have been reviewed by Brigadier General George R. Dyer, but unhappily weather conditions were opposed, and the inspection was made indoors. The general complimented the companies and band for their many parades and military demonstrations to a very high degree.

Floral decorations added beauty to the chapel and entrance hall. Examples of the work of the pupils from the various departments was on view. On the chapel sates were excellently arranged a series of black and white drawings by the leading art pupil, M. D. Ciavolino. The drawings contrasted the school-room in 1818 and today. The first large school building on 50th Street and a drawing of that of today. A symbolical figure of Triumph was in the center. Finally a drawing of the cadets on parade added the military touch that is a prominent feature of Fairwood, which claims to be and is the first military school for the deaf in the world.

The N. A. D. extends the glad hand—this time across parities and mountains—to the recruits that have lately swelled our ranks. But we shall do more than salute these brethren and sisters; we shall welcome them to that greatest of membership privileges—the family woodpile! It needs you, but you need it a sight more; just pitch in and you won't have to ask what the N. A. D. is for.

In the above list it will be seen that Nebraska is getting into line a little faster than any of the other States, Michigan being a close second. There is a lot of good material for the N. A. D. lying loose among the Cornhuskers, and we should like to see some of those fair slackers out that way buttonhole a few more of them. The State organizer, Mrs. Ota Blankenship, has broken all records in the number of appeals sent out to prospective members. We suggest that she and other State organizers speed up by organizing a "get-one" band among the members, requiring each member to bring in another and thus escape the odium of the term "slacker."

Does a look at the conspicuous date, June 1, 1918, give you a sense of satisfaction? Then you must have paid your N. A. D. dues. As you are reminded in the May issue of the Nad the above date is the turning point in the N. A. D. year, and in order to spare the treasurer the trouble of reading lengthy apologies for your delinquency you should send in your dues by the next mail. In the number of paid-up members Michigan leads, but there's a chance for almost any State to break into the front lines. Pay up!

We are living in strenuous times, when it seems as if our Uncle Sam is squeezing out of us all the time, energy and coin that we can spare—and some that we can't. But this is just the time to push a little harder for the grand old organization that stands by all the deaf. Its objects are worth fighting for—just, take a look at them as set forth in the JOURNAL, the Silent Worker, or the Nad.

State organizer Porter of New Jersey has a big job as publisher of the Silent Worker, but he doesn't let its bigness blind him to the fact that there's some more to the world outside the Worker office. He goes after the New Jersey delinquents, and also new additions, and he invariably gets them.

In Ohio the N. A. D. does things. The State organizer, Miss Lamson, is on the job all the time. Nobody in her territory ever asks what the N. A. D. is for. They know better. The latest move on the part of the Ohio Association is to boost the Home-for-the-Aged project, thus living up to the N. A. D. motto—"for the welfare of all the deaf."

Among the N. A. D. branches (we wish every good-sized town or city could boast of one) that of Duluth looms up big, as it should with two such hustlers as Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Howard. There is so much doing up there that the Duluth branch requires an organizer all to itself. Mrs. Howard, who holds that office, reports a "big membership picnic" for the 9th of June. There's an idea for other branches to catch onto!

Booster Meagher is a louder advertisement for the N. A. D. than ever since he got affixed to a N. A. D. button. In the Silent Worker for June he passes on, with a personal touch, the "official" directions for wearing the emblem of our organization. Now, if every loyal "Nad" would follow "Jimmy's" good example and show his or her colors, in season and out, the dollars would soon flow in so fast that we'd have to turn something over to the Endowment Fund. Try it this summer on your vacation.

Treasurer.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL, Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter, or postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

The Brooklyn Guild recently celebrated the birthday of Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, which is an annual custom of that organization.

There was a crowded house, and a nice program conducted by the Guild president, Robert Anderson. Addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Chamberlain, Mr. C. Q. Mann, and others. Miss Emma F. Caddy, in patriotic garb, rendered "America" in graceful signs. She also recited a poem about Rev. Dr. Gallaudet.

John Wilkinson, in signs of poetical grace and sweeping force, read a letter from Miss Nellie E. Lorigan.

A surprise of the evening was the presentation of a fine leather handbag to Rev. Dr. John Chamberlain and a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Chamberlain.

The service of ice cream and cake concluded a very interesting and enjoyable evening.

Between one and two hundred attended the Frat "Package Party," last Saturday night, in the Guild Room of St. Ann's. Mrs. Lashbrook, of Rome, N. Y., sang in forceful and graceful signs "The Star Spangled Banner." Max Lubin was voted the most popular Frat; Keith W. Morris was highest bidder in the auction; Miss Krauss had the prettiest lunch box—and they each received prizes. There were games played, the chief one being to "can the Kaiser." Next affair is a dinner in honor of visiting Frats, at Coney Island, on July 8th.

Mrs. Regensburg, of Hollywood and Venice, Cal., has been in New York for the past three weeks, and on Saturday left for the New York Central for her faraway home on the Pacific Coast. She was gallantly escorted to the train by Mr. Sylvester J. Forgarty. At the station a few of her friends, who had been apprised of the hour of departure, were present to see her off, among them Mr. and Mrs. H. Pierce Kane, Mr. Braunsen, Mrs. Bachrach and little Cecelia, Mr. Henry C. Kohlman and Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson.

The advertisement in this week's issue will interest those who are deterred from making plans for their vacations, because of the high rates now charged and the increased cost of railroad fares. Poughkeepsie is a short distance from New York by boat up the famous Hudson, and the Locust Hall farm is only two miles from the town. The deaf who can get to the country this summer will find the farm a delightful place to spend their vacation.

On the 9th of June, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schmidt (formerly Mary Rhodes) gave a little party in honor of Miss Ida L. Frank, of Lakewood, N. J. Misses Elizabeth Macleire and Katherine Ehrlich were present. They played games and had a swell supper, Miss Frank won the first prize and the booty went to Miss Ehrlich.

Miss Lucille C. Left has gone for the remainder of the Summer to Sauganac Park, in the Adirondacks. We hope upon her return she'll be as strong as Samson. Her friend, Mrs. Howard Melville, expects to join her for the month of August, and between the two three will be one grand old time.

Mrs. Leah Frey's birthday was celebrated on the 2d of June. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Frey and two children, there were present: Mrs. and Mrs. Elkin, Mr. and Mrs. Goldfogle, Mrs. Ekhardt and Miss E. Steiner. A fine supper was served and all had a good time.

Henry Muench, employed by one of the sawmills at Galliger, near Port Washington, L. I., cut his right foot very badly on Friday, the 14th. S. M. Cooks went with him to the Flushing Hospital, where he must stay for two or three weeks.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wasserman, on June 13th, a boy. Mother and baby doing well.

Seligman Gerson will spend the summer at Rockaway Beach.

[News items for this column may be sent to our Ohio News Bureau, care of Mr. At B. Greener, 999 Franklin Ave., Columbus, O.]

June 15, 1918.—The Columbus N. A. D. Branch held a meeting in the Library of the School for the Deaf, Tuesday evening, June 11th. The attendance was a record breaker, there being thirty-eight present. After the reading and slight correction of the minutes of the last meeting, President Charles suggested that the members first listen to Mr. McGregor talk, and transact business afterwards, so as to allow time to catch his ear, which suggestion was agreed to.

Of course the subject was the present war. Mr. McGregor said he had taken down no notes except Count Lichnowsky and Sir Edward Gray—the former was the German diplomat at the English Capital in 1912, and the other the English Foreign Secretary of State. Lichnowsky was not a German, and why he was given the appointment was due probably to his ability as a diplomat. He referred to the Imperial Government intrigue with Turkey and attempt to get a foothold in India, how the French after the war of 1870 were willing to pay the indemnity the German Government demanded, but pleaded and pleaded to allow Alsace Lorraine to remain, but Bismarck then Chancellor contemptuously refused to listen to it, for the reason that Germany needed the territory as it was rich in minerals.

Germany had been preparing for this war many years, and the "Serbia" incident is only a camouflage for starting it.

Mr. McGregor talk was very interesting, and he was given a vote of thanks at the close.

Business was then taken up. Miss Lamson and Mr. Beckert, of the Relief Chest Committee, reported that a fund for it be raised on Labor Day by a combined picnic in the afternoon, the place to be named later. The committee on the part of the N. A. D. to arrange for it are Messrs. Showalter, Beckert and Miss Lamson.

The Committee for the Fourth of July picnic at the Home are: N. A. D., Miss Edgar and Mrs. Callison; Ladies' Aid Society, Mrs. Schory and Miss Biggam; F. S. D. later to be appointed for both picnics. Mr. Showalter presented Messrs. Fred Schwartz and Henry Hartard as new members of the N. A. D. Adjournment was then taken till October, after which those in attendance were treated to lemonade and wafers.

A sacred patriotic parade was given in Columbus Sunday afternoon, and was the largest ever witnessed here. There were thirty different units, and in all about 25,000 marchers with forty or fifty flags. It took two hours to pass a given point. Each unit was headed by a large American banner. The Red Cross workers were the most numerous. In the first division were the mothers of soldiers, each wore a star, some of them two, and several were in mourning—showing their sons had given their lives for the cause. Banners or flags were carried by nearly all, and most of the ladies were in white. In the Trinity Church Red Cross unit were Mrs. Zell, Miss Zell, Mrs. Friend, Mrs. Elsey, Mrs. Black, Mrs. Holycross, Mrs. Wark, Mrs. Callison, Mrs. Eshleman, Miss Lamson and Mrs. Schwertman, and the following men in other units: Messrs. Charles, Beckert, Black, Frater, Schory and Wark.

Mr. Beckert was one of those assisting in carrying a large flag of the War Chest unit, and while passing along High Street coins of all denominations were thrown into the flag. Unfortunately a dollar one struck him on the head with such a force as to break through his hat and raising a lump on his head. He took the incident patriotically and wished there had come more like it to help down the Huns. His flag took in nearly $40 by the time it reached the end of the procession.

The Cleveland Laides' Aid Society wants a big crowd on the occasion of a festival to be given by it, at G. A. R. Hall on W. 25th St. The date is June 27, commencing at 2 P.M. The affair is not to be held on the inside of the hall, but on the outside, so one need not fear of sweltering. It is to be hoped the deaf near Cleveland will attend, as the ladies are anxious to realize a big sum to help procure a new auto for the Home to take the place of the one recently destroyed by fire.

Miss Lucile Rupey, of Cleveland, was given a shower by her Cleveland friends last Saturday, in honor of her wedding, which will take place in the near future. She received many substantial and useful gifts.

The friends of Mr. A. W. Mann will be gratified to hear that she has recovered sufficiently to be out of bed and allowed to walk down stairs and out on the porch. What is more she is able to do the sewing and mending in the household of five. Doctor says she can take a trip and a warm climate to spend the winter. So a card received from her, as we're making up this letter for the JOURNAL, says. We sincerely hope she will be able to realize this good fortune.

Two of the pupils, Skinner and Richardson, of the 4th grammar class, are as the school. Otto Serdowski, another pupil, has secured work in the city with a cement paving company at $3.50 a day.

The Columbus Ladies Aid Society members, to the number of twenty-four, enjoyed a picnic all by themselves last Saturday afternoon. The place was over near Grand View. The day proved a fine one for such an affair, and everyone enjoyed the occasion. The time was passed in games and social talk till evening, when members helped themselves to the contents of the lunch boxes or basket brought along, and at dark the members scattered for their several homes, glad they had an outing in the country air. Miss Ethel Zell took a picture of the party and also one of the Red Cross workers among them.

In a former letter mention was made of Mr. Louis Poshusta having come down from Akron, where he was employed as a bricklayer, and had come here to work on a government job. He started out on the Monday following, and at the end of the week, the timekeeper for the contractor notified him that he could no longer keep him. Asked the reason why, Mr. Poshusta was told that on account of his deafness, the work was too hazardous owing to the numerous derricks trains about the place in use. Mr. Poshusta protested that he had been engaged in his trade ten years without accident, and thought it unfair to make an example of him because of his deafness. The matter was brought to the attention of Superintendent Jones, and he argued the case with the timekeeper for Mr. Poshusta. The boss was obdurate in his decision, so Mr. Poshusta has gone elsewhere for work.

Mrs. Flora Volkel, on account of the death of her husband, was transferred from the Dayton, Ohio, Hospital to the Columbus Hospital several weeks ago. This was done for the convenience of her relatives, who live in Grove City and Columbus, and also friends here. By the change, life to her will be more pleasant by visits from them. She is rational at times and shows no symptoms of her unfortunate malady.

Mr. Herbert C. Volp, of Grove City, O., is employed by Richards, McCarty and Bulford, one of the leading architectural firms of the city, as a tracer. At present he has to work over-time many evenings, as the firm has a rush order for the plans of the new penitentiary, which is being built near London, O., on a farm of over 1000 acres. Mr. Volp enjoys the work and the pay is good.

Mrs. A. B. Greener returned home Thursday noon, from a visit with her two daughters, Mrs. J. K. Sherman and Mrs. Walter S. Kridler. Miss May Greener is up there now visiting them.

With the mercury at 50 degrees at 7 A.M., and 54 degrees at 3 P.M. today, Columbus surely is a cool place for June 22d, the longest day of the year.

Mr. Charles Brown, boys' Supervisor, left for his home near Niles, Ohio, last Saturday. He will likely go over to Akron later, to work there in one of the rubber tire factories.

Mr. and Mrs. August Beckert left Monday for Piqua to pass the vacation. Mr. Beckert is Boys' Yard Supervisor and Mrs. Beckert, Matron of the D boys' floor.

A. B. G.

AKRON, OHIO.

Mrs. C. Schiffhauer and children, of Uniontown, Pa., recently joined her husband in East Akron. They are now quartered at 605 Hammel Street. Mr. Schiffhauer is employed at the Goodyear.

John Leopold, Tom Hill and C. Tugford, are now employed in the Read-Brenzol dry cleaning plant in this city.

We regret to chronicle that Mrs. Genia Park died Sunday morning, at the home of her parents, 162 West Center Street, after several months' illness. She formerly lived in West Virginia and attended school for the deaf there. The funeral service was held at the residence Tuesday afternoon. She was buried in Glendale Cemetery, not very far from her home.

Mrs. Shaw at Rest.

CONCORD, MASS., June 11.—Funeral services for Mrs. Sadie Ann Shaw, wife of William P. Shaw, who died Newark, N. J., June 9, took place this afternoon in Sleepy Hollow Chapel. E. W. Frisbee of West Medford, lay reader of the Episcopal Church, officiated. Burial was in Sleepy Hollow.

Mrs. Shaw was a deaf-mute, as is her husband. The couple several years ago fought to retain custody of a minor son, whose guardianship was sought by his grandparents. The courts granted Mr. and Mrs. Shaw permanent custody of the child. Mr. Shaw is an inventor, formerly with the General Electric Company, Lynn, and now with Thomas A. Edison.—Boston Globe, June 12.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1538 North Dove Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The following clipping is from the North American, May 27th. READING, PA., May 26—Handicapped by lack of both speech and hearing, Miss Eva S. Ahrens, of this city, a student in the Pennsylvania School of Industrial Art, Philadelphia, has won three prizes, an achievement that would be remarkable for a normally endowed pupil.

Miss Ahrens' career reminds one many respects of that of Helen Keller. The advantage Miss Ahrens possesses is that of sight. She is the daughter of Mrs. Howard E. Ahrens. Her father died only recently. Miss Ahrens was sent to the public schools in Reading. She learned lip-reading at an early age, and was accompanied to school daily by Miss Daisy B. Keim, her constant companion. When she went to college she was accompanied by Miss Keim.

The public school and college training gave the girl the broader outlook and the companionship which an institutional schooling would have lacked, and in every respect Miss Ahrens is normally well educated, even better than normally, because she has developed extraordinary mental qualities.

The three honors conferred on her in the Philadelphia school are the M. Theresa Keehnle scholarship, the Elizabeth Duane Gillespie third prize, and honorable mention in the Herbert D. Allman prize contest.

Her high school course here had previously brought her distinction as she was graduated "with merit." She will advance her education still further at other institutions. This girl, who has never spoken a word or heard any sound in her life, has a better training for a high skilled technical position than most college men. She specialized in wallpaper and carpet designs. Experts in both lines who have seen her work say her talents are unusual.

Two sisters of Miss Ahrens are also deaf. They are the Misses Hannah and Elizabeth Ahrens, who are members of the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf and take a warm interest in the Home for the Aged and Infirm Deaf.

On Saturday evening, June 8th, some two hundred persons attended the strawberry and ice cream festival, an annual event of the Ladies' Pastoral Aid Society, at All Souls' Parish House, and a very pleasant social evening was the result. There were several out-of-town visitors in the crowd. A snug sum was netted, which will be used by the Society to carry on its good work.

Four or five novices were initiated at the monthly meeting of Philadelphia Division, No. 30, on Friday evening, 7th inst.

Among the visitors at this meeting were Mr. Bohlman, of New York, and Mr. John W. McCandless, a teacher in the Alabama School for the Deaf. The former was sent here to do some work for his employer, and the latter expects to remain here through the summer with a married brother.

At the annual meeting of the Gallaudet Club at All Souls' Parish House, June 1st, Mr. William H. Lipsett was re-elected President; Joseph V. Donohue, elected Vice President; and Mr. Harry E. Stevens, re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Mr. James H. Richards was operated on for the removal of tumors in the nose, at the Garretson Hospital, late in the week ending June 8th. He was able to go home in about a day.

Mr. Clarke Moore and children returned home on June 2d, after a very pleasant visit of two weeks with Mrs. Moore's folks, in Newark, N. J.

Mr. John P. Detweiler, son of Mr. Francis H. Detweiler, of this city, was married to Miss Ella Hansen, of Parkland, Pa., at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. O. B. Cloud, in Chester, on May 29th, last.

Miss Sallie Morrison, who came here from Piedmont, South Carolina, last September, and Mr. Linwood Edmondson, of Speed, North Carolina, are to be married in All Souls' Church for the Deaf, at 8 o'clock, P. M., on June 26th.

We wish to extend our sympathy to Miss Dora Heim, of Kane, Pa., who lost her father by death recently.

Miss Louise Sadelmeyer, who has been teaching in the Arizona School for the Deaf the past school year, has returned to her native city, old Philly, to spend her vacation. She was accompanied East part of the way by Mrs. Leonardo Maldonado, of California. The latter is now visiting her parents at Logansville, Pa., and later expects to visit Philadelphia.

Miss Dora Kintzel knitted a sweater and attached to it a piece of paper with her name and address. She has just received a letter from Lester Reagon, of the U. S. S. Agamemnon, at Hoboken, N. J., saying that the sweater she made had been given to him and that he wished to thank her for it.

Mrs. M. J. Syle led the current events talk at the meeting of the Clero Literary Association on June 6th.

The Mt. Airy School closed for the season on June 20th.

All Souls' Church for the Deaf is looking for a sexton; one who is married. The present sexton will retire on July 1st.

HARTFORD.

The school closed here for the summer vacation, about three months, on Friday, June 14th. There are probably two reasons for this earlier closing, the demand of parents for the help of their children, especially on farms and gardens, and the increased cost of food supplies for the school.

Mrs. Clara Flogg Nevers has been spending some weeks with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bartlett, of West Haven, assisting at housework. Mr. Bartlett recently suffered a severe shock, but is now much better.

Mr. Geo. E. Wells, of Waterbury, was recently knocked down and severely injured by an automobile as he was leaving a trolley car. He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in that city and has been unable to work since. The police arrested the auto driver.

A daughter, Elsie Dorothy, was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Robert Sweeney, of Bridgeport, in May. And a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Stevenson, of Saybrook—their fifth child—the first week in June.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rockwell and son, Walter C. Rockwell, have opened their summer cottage at Indian Neck, Branford. Messrs. Rockwell will spend their week ends there. Walter is one of the firm of J. W. Rockwell and Sons Company, of Hartford, lumber and box manufacturers, and he has been gymnasium instructor at the school here the past two years.

Mr. Walter G. Durian was in Pittsfield, Mass., Sunday, June 2d, and conducted church services for the deaf in that city at St. Stephens Episcopal Church. He is a lay-reader and an able preacher.

There was a strawberry festival on the grounds of the school Saturday afternoon, June 8th, a ball game and an Arts and Crafts sale. All for the benefit of the Edward M. Gallaudet fund. One feature of the ball game was that each player on the losing team forfeited 10 cents to the fund.

Mrs. E. P. Clarke has gone to Rochester, N. Y., to visit friends and her former school. She expects to be gone most of the month of June. We are in receipt of a new periodical of the deaf, the Clark School Bulletin. The Editor is Miss Alice Manning, of Lynn, a graduate of Northampton, and of Mt. Holyoke College. It is issued under the Auspices of the Clark School Alumni Association. It is an interesting paper and well edited.

Henry P. Corliss, of Bristol, died suddenly of heart failure in the early morning of June 10th. He was a Northampton school man, a Frat and a member of the Deaf-Mute Benevolent Society of Hartford. His wife was Isabelle E. Brensen, a graduate of the Hartford School. He had worked for many years in Bristol, and leaves besides the wife two sons. Age, 48 years. He was an industrious and respected man.

With the coming of June has come the happy weddings days. On Wednesday, June 12th, Felix J. Bonvouloir, of Hartford, and Miss Ella Pfurr, of Waterbury, were married at the home of the bride's brother in Waterbury. Mr. and Mrs. Bonvouloir will make their home in this city, where he is employed at Royal Typewriter Factory. Both are attractive young deaf people and have the best wishes of their many friends.

On Saturday, June 15th, Burgess B. Brunzell, of Springfield, and Miss Cora E. Anderson, of Great Britain, were married at the bride's home. After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Brunzell will keep house at 268 Walnut Street, Springfield. The groom is a Providence School man and the bride is a Hartford School girl. We are sure the Springfield deaf community will give this bright young couple a hearty welcome to their midst.

Mr. Arno Klopfer, of Holyoke, Mass., has gone to Portland, Maine, to work in a government ship yard. Mrs. Klopfer, nee Chinery, remains in Holyoke, and Mrs. Nancy Witmeyer, of South Norwalk, will stay with her.

M. and Mrs. James R. Frellick, of Stamford, and Mrs. J. D. Bartlett and Mrs. C. F. Nevers, of West Haven, and Philip Quinn and Miss Rona Hogan, of New Haven, were in Bridgeport Sunday, June 9th.

The officers of the Hartford Benevolent Society for the present year are: President, Guy H. Bonham; Vice-President, T. J. Bonvouloir; Secretary, Paul C. Meacham; Treasurer, Dana B. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Taylor and daughter, Edna, were recent visitors at the farm home of Mrs. Lorin F. White, at Andover, Ct.

Making love must be a wonderfully absorbing occupation. In passing through the Capital park, an evening recently, we saw two young couples on the same park bench, in the deep shade of a very leafy tree, so tremendously interested in each other as to be utterly oblivious of the presence of a big policeman standing nearby and solemnly watching them. The officer had the good sense to go away, leaving them undisturbed and we ourselves walked by on tiptoes. Heaven forbid anyone should roughly disturb such great joys of life, especially because we are only young but once to experience them.

PITTSBURGH.

June 8th was the date of an exciting debate on the old-time question that women work harder and have more patience than men, under the auspices of the P. S. A. D. Branch, and engineered by H. Bardes as chairman of the ways and means committee. The women were championed by Mr. H. B. McMaster and Wm. Shull, and mere man by Samuel Davidson and William Gibson. The virtues and strength of the gentler sex were shown up in fine style by their defenders, while the men were as vigorously upheld by advocates. The debate furnished an hour of amusement for a small audience, especially when the critic's report was presented by Mrs. Holliday, who pointed out the "long and the short" of it all in her usual sprightly fashion. The judge of debate, of Mr. Joseph Atcheson, declared that "The ladies have it," which of course was to be expected from that gallant young bachelor.

Messrs. Stewart, of Connelville, and Smith, of Mt. Pleasant, were down Sunday, June 9th, coming on the former's motorcycle. These runs by the boys are pretty frequent, and they seem to regard the distance covered as an every-day occurrence and they enjoy the excitement of getting away with the speed limit. The Edgewood School closed June 12th. An attractive program was all ready for public presentation, when the German must put his foot in it, in the shape of German measles which had driven one of the graduates into quarantine. There was much disappointment, of course, but as it could not be helped, it was taken with good grace. The Edgewood Public schools fared no better.

Mr. W. B. Larkin, of Jackson, Ky., was a visitor in the city, and at the school last week. He is a prosperous jeweler and was educated at the Belleville, Ontario, Canada, School. He found in Mr. Kepp a congenial soul, as their interests coincided.

On June 15th, Mr. Thomas Koonts, of Johnstown, and Miss Belle Kelly, of McKeesport, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. Dr. Taylor, at the First Presbyterian church, Wilkinsburg. Prof. E. D. Road interpreting. The happy couple left immediately for Cleveland and Erie, where they expected to remain a week, after which they returned to Johnstown where they will make their home. Of course all their friends wish them "Bon voyage," and certainly no "submersibles" to interfere with their peaceful sailing.

June, the month of roses and weddings, is as popular with our young people as with others. The daily long lists of marriage licenses are interesting sometimes.

The list for June 15th contained the names of Richard Le Viere and Katie Feskorn, and doubtless their craft has been launched safely.

Besides these there are a few other couples hovering about the breakers, endeavoring to decide just when to make the plunge.

The Frats of Pittsburgh will hold their annual picnic July 4th, at the school grounds, Edgewood, and extend invitation to all the deaf people of the district to participate.

FLORIDA

Miss Carrie Brown, who has been located at the Deau apartment with her sister and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hoopes, during the Winter, left some time ago for her home in Minneapolis, to be gone for some months. Miss Brown expects to return early in September for the rest of her life. She will become the bride of Mr. Paul Blount, of Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Philpott, of Sh. Cloud, have advised Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kessler that they would make Miami their future home in the near future. Mrs. Philpott intends to run a boarding house while Mr. Philpott will enter as linotype operator in one of Miami's daily papers.

If any one of Charlie Manire's friends sees his name in this news item, for him to kindly notify of his whereabouts to either Prof. O. W. Underhill, St. Augustine, Fla., or Mr. Frank E. Philpott, St. Cloud, as his address is wanted for communication.

He left school for some northern unknown place, in 1914. Samuel C. Boggs, Supervisor of large deaf boys, was allowed a four months' summer vacation, and is now at home to his relatives and friends in Spartanburg, S. C. He made the trip north on his "Indian" motorcycle.

James E. Sizemore left for his home in Chipley, Florida, visiting relatives and friends. It's his first visit in eight years.

Fred Pollock and Leon Morris, fruit packers, are stationed at Fort Valley, Ga., for the peach season. Their next trip will be to Galveston, Texas, where they will pack cantaloupes.

A tiny baby-girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stinson, of live Oak, recently.

R. H. Rou contemplates a trip of two to three weeks in the near future, intending to spend the time, accompanied by Mrs. Rou, visiting Mr. Rou's relatives in Marion county. Since Mrs. Rou has come to Florida from Chicago, it is noticeable that she is growing as fast as can be, and of course, is getting tanned, though she enjoys it immensely. She no longer wishes for a return fare home to Chicago on account of weather conditions up there.

Prof. O. W. Underhill, of St. Augustine, is expected in Miami shortly.

Mrs. J. R. Quarles has gone home to Bradford county for the summer, with her parents and relatives.

Mrs. Eddie Pope paid a short visit to her sister, Lura, at Biscayne Key.

It is reported that Clarence Morris is in Jacksonville, Florida, working in a planing mill. Good luck! Clarence.

Mrs. E. J. Hendricks returned to her home in Island Grove from a two months, visit with relatives in Hull, Florida.

Miami has a population of not more than 35,000 people, of which 25 "silent" ones are included, and no meetings of any kind have been asked or suggested for permanent organization. Who will have the courage to start it.

Owing to the possession of a high paid job as painter, Max Wetherby is contemplating to buy a Harley-Davidson (latest model) motorcycle.

If any one of you want to say something about yourself or your friends in this paper, for her or him to write to R. H. Rou, in care of the Miami Herald.

Ex-Chief Henry Blaurock, East Orange, Dies Suddenly.

Henry Blaurock, the first chief of the East Orange Police Department, died suddenly this morning at his home, 3 Glenwood Avenue, on that city. He was seized with a heart attack shortly after rising and died within a few minutes.

Born in East Orange seventy-six years ago, Mr. Blaurock served as tax collector when that city was a township, and in 1886 was appointed police chief by the old Township Committee, being re-appointed every two years until 1899, when the city government was established. He continued as head of the department until 1906, when he was retired, after twenty years of active service. Prior to Mr. Blaurock's first appointment the township was paroled by two constables.

A veteran of the Civil War, Mr. Blaurock had served in Company H, Twenty-sixth New Jersey Volunteer Infantry, and took part in a number engagements, among them being the battles of Fredericksburg, Mary's Heights, Salem Heights and Bank's Ford. He was honorably discharged in this city on June 27th, 1863.

The first president of the Police-men's Mutual Aid Society, Mr. Blaurock was a member at the time of his death. He was also member of Lincoln Post No. 11, G. A. R., of this city and the Exempt Fire-men's Association of East Orange. The flag at the city hall has been placed at half mast in his honor.

Mr. Blaurock is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Seymour Vau Wagonen of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Mrs. James Todd of West Orange, Mrs. Charles Bothner of New York, Mrs. Frank Brown and Miss Ida Blaurock of East Orange, Mrs. Blaurock died fourteen months ago.

Whose love of right is for themselves,
And not for all the race."

THE Principals and teachers of the several schools for the deaf of New York State held a five-day Conference at the Lexington Avenue Institution. Half of each day was devoted to visiting other schools for the deaf located in New York City and its environs. One day was spent at Fanwood, where the special educational and military features were demonstrated before a hundred teachers. Dr. A. C. Hill, of the State Department of Education was present. Also Miss Helen Hill, of the State Board of Charities.

There can be no question of the benefit to be derived from such conferences. No matter how skillful a teacher may be, or how much of expert knowledge he may possess, there is a broadening of conception derived from associating with others charged with similar problems in the line of education.

THE Board of Visitors to the Maryland Institution at Frederick has appointed Prof. Ignatius Bjorlee to the office of Principal, recently made vacant by the acceptance of the call to the Principalship of the Western New York Institution by Prof. Thomas C. Forrester.

Mr. Bjorlee has been a teacher at the New York Institution for several years, and is qualified for his new position by a thorough knowledge of the methods of education and system of management which obtain at Fanwood. He is a graduate of St. Olaf College, Minnesota, and also of the Normal Department of Gallaudet College.

THE Rochester Advocate publishes a memorial edition to the late Dr. Zenas F. Westervelt, founder of the Rochester School and its Principal up to the day of his death. It outlines in brief a history of the man and his work in behalf of the educational uplift of the deaf.

THE photographs used in last week's special edition of the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL were all of the high-grade quality that has earned fame for Mr. Alex L. Pach, who was the artist to produce them.

A Turkish Legend.

A certain Pasha, dead these thousand years, Once from his harem fled in sudden tears, And had this sentence on the city's gate Deeply engraven, Only God is great.
So those four words above the city's noise Hung like the accents of an angel's voice, And evermore, from the high barbasan, Saluted each returning caravan.
Lost is that city's glory. Every gust Lifts, with dead leaves, the unknown Pasha's dust.
And all is ruin—save one wrinkled face, Whereon is written, Only God is great.
—Thomas Bailey Aldrich.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dudley, of El Paso, Tex., made an extended auto trip to the Pacific Coast during May, and it is probable that they may locate permanently in Los Angeles.

CHICAGO.

News items for this column should be sent to Jesse A. Waterman, 344-348 Unity Building, Chicago, Ill.

Miss Wilson, living in Marquette Park, president of the League of Hard of Hearing, was a welcome visitor at the social gathering in the All Angels' Parish hall last Wednesday. She probably was surprised to find a great many able to talk and read the lip movements just as natural as herself, except practically all are masters of the sign language.

Fred Young, whose home is in Canada and who came to Chicago two years ago, leaving behind a charming fiancée, plans to start for a three weeks' vacation this Saturday for the town of his boyhood days. He took with him a passport from the Government. Sometimes a newspaper gets ahead of his plans, so there is no danger in announcing that when Fred returns we all will be showering "him and her" the customary congratulations. It is rumored they will make their future home in Albany Park, a growing suburb in the northwestern section of Chicago.

Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Borinstein, who has been in France the past year, wrote from New York City telling of his safe arrival there after two weeks' voyage on the sea without any stirring incident. The young soldier is on a furlough and may come to Chicago. He was on the original trip of the President Lincoln to Europe, and which has been sunk by a submarine on its return trip. Mrs. Borinstein is still at the bedside of her aged mother in Buffalo, N. Y.

Herbert Gunner, who left a week ago for Los Angeles, Cal., in order to take advantage of a ten-day vacation, following an operation, writes from that city dated June 7th conveying the greetings of Los Angeles deaf to the members of the Pas-a-Pas Club. He said the club's reputation in the far west has already been established through the columns of the JOURNAL, and that the club's continuous existence of 36 years is arousing comment. In Los Angeles live former members of the club, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Sonnenborn and Mrs. Lefi, the latter reported very ill.

Alfred Liebenstein has fully recovered from a recent operation on his foot. In order to emphasize his joy, Alfred handed out Havana cigars. His firm, the Hart, Schaffner & Marx Co., have kept him on their pay roll as a master cutter for many years.

B. F. Frank, chairman of the local committee on arrangements for the Chicago chapter of the Illinois Association of the Deaf, is sending out announcements calling attention to the convention which takes place in this city Aug. 30 to Sept. 2. Those who plan to come to Chicago on those days are advised to notify him at Room 344, Unity Bldg., 127 N. Dearborn St., so that they may find accommodations during their stay. The Pas-a-Pas Club has thrown open its doors to all delegates with the word welcome in capital letters. Visitors should take note of the coming important event—the annual picnic of the Chicago Chapter—which occurs on Labor Day, Sept. 2, for the benefit of the Home Fund.

Fred Kaufman recently underwent an operation and for over a month has been entertaining visitors at his home. Now he wants to get back to work. The yearning to call in his favorite clubroom also is becoming unbearable. His physicians will permit him to get his freedom this week.

Wm. J. Graham, formerly of Indianapolis, Ind., now employed with Albert Pick Co., goes to Millboro, Va., this week, for a three-day business trip in connection with a farm which he purchased some years ago. The condition of the wheat crop is the real significance of his trip.

Edward Rowe, Chas. Henry and Ernest Craig, the trio who were college pals and now tennis enthusiasts, have just developed into hiking fiends. Most every Sunday they may be found in Dunes Park, a government tract of sandy land between Gary and Michigan City, Ind. Interest in the park is about as intense as the deserts in Arizona. Very few trees grow, because of the many drifts of sand. The place offers a number of artificial natatoriums wherein children and timid women can swim, where the water is usually at a tepid temperature.

The semi-annual dinner of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church was given last Saturday, at the home of Mrs. F. C. Joseph. The affair was pronounced by those who partook of the bountiful feast, as coming within the spirit and letter of the Hoover edict on food conservation.

Interest in the coming thirty-sixth anniversary picnic of the Pas-a-Pas Club is beginning to attain immense proportions. The club only had one picnic, a year ago in Hammond, Ind., after about seven years of dormance. This year will be its second one since its complete rejuvenation. The "recipe" for this brand of "rekindling the spark of life" is free for the asking.

The Club's picnic committee have elaborate plans for the most interesting event for the summer. Later a complete announcement of the games and list of prizes will be announced. The affair will take place at Polonia Grove, 4600 Archer Ave., corner St. Louis Ave., Saturday, July 27th. Tickets will be a straight thirty cents (including war tax). This is considered cheap, since the grove is within the city limits and means only a five-cent fare from all points of the city.

Edwin Hazel's contemplated trip to Philadelphia this month, where he intended to take advanced course in monotype operating and type casting has been abandoned, because the company manufacturing these machines has already installed a branch school in this city. Edwin will save a great deal on expenses. At present he is a valued employee of the University Press.

The Chicago Division of the N. F. S. D. have completed their plans for one of the most interesting and exciting events of the early summer season—that is, their annual outing and picnic at Atlas Grove, on Crawford, near Lawrence Avenue, for Sunday, all day, July 14th. Because of the division's large membership, which extends over a radius of fifty miles surrounding Chicago there will be record-breaking crowd. Most of their plans calls for splendor and entertainment, the nature of which cannot be learned in advance. There will likely be many young men just out of school who will become anxious to enroll with this growing organization, which is nearing the $200,000 mark in financial stability. Since the convention at Philadelphia will conclude on July 6th, there will be ample time for the returning delegates to prolong their visit when enroute home, and also the grand officers will be there in full force.

Charles Angle, only son of Mrs. D. R. MacDonald, now connected with the U. S. Aviation Corps in Texas, is spending a five-day furlough with his mother, step-father, aunts, uncles and grandmother, right in Chicago. During his stay he is trying to allay their fears over the dangers of aviation.

Prof. Albert Berg has arrived in town. He left Indianapolis a week ago, made brief stops in LaPorte and Elkhart, Ind., where he lined up eight young men for the New England Mutual Life Ins. Co. Mr. Berg plans to remain all summer in Chicago, having leased an apartment on the South Side, and will be joined later by his wife.

The children from the Jacksonville school arrived in Chicago last Thursday noon, under the guidance of several teachers, among them being Professors Cleary and Putnam. Mr. Cleary remained in Chicago until the following day (Friday) and left for Old Mission, Mich., where he has a large farm. He will be back in Chicago some time in the Fall and deliver that long-promised lecture in the Pas-a-Pas Club rooms. Prof. Putnam was formerly of Minnesota school and has been at Jacksonville for two years.

At the Union depot there were parents and friends of the school children, who made a wild scramble at the narrow gate in an effort to be the first to greet their long absent children. Among the Chicago pupils to arrive were Misses Glennie Caswell, Helen Waterman, and the Paderowsky sisters.

Prof. Cleary was in Chicago long enough to pay a visit with Drs. Dougherty and Hasenstab, as former Gallaudet "pals." The missing link was "Dick" Long, whom Mr. Cleary was most anxious to meet. Charles Boss served as "official city guide" for Mr. Cleary during most of the two days' stay.

KANSAS CITY, MO.

All's on for Philadelphia! Chauncey Laughlin packs his cases, leaving very soon.

Mrs. Noah and her charming daughter are visitors here. Will leave for Lincoln, Neb., today, where they reside. Brysis, her daughter, is certainly a very brilliant and attractive lady.

We had a gathering of famous men Saturday night. Enthusiasm and applause were frequent. Rev. Cloud gave us an interesting lecture, assisted by Professors Carrell and Farquhar and Ex Supt. Walker, of several States, but making his home in the city.

Picnic? yes it will be at Budd's Park.—the Fourth.

Rev. Rutherford, of Chicago, preached to a fairly sized crowd Thursday. Some declared the minister never made a better sermon than the one he gave us, or can never be repeated, for that night he was at his best, his whole soul went with his words and signs, dramatically featured in his sign movement, typically what Billy Sunday does in his movement, and held the audience motionless.

The writer is on receipt of a card, member of the Pas-a-Pas Club, of Chicago, and prizes is highly. There is hardly a better, progressive society, in the United States. The Club has many bright, wide awake, attractive members, full of merriment, and very educational.

Terry Page and wife are now living in El Paso, Tex. Mrs. Page formerly lived in Louisville, Ky.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE.

The Senior Class pulled off their stunt of the year last Sunday, when they provided the afternoon concert of that day. The program was as follows:—

Introduction.....Miss Wesen
"OPRESSED PEOPLE."
I. By Political Power—Poland.....Mr. William
II. By Spiritual Power—The Jews.....Mr. Schowe
Hymn: "They Went Forth to Battle but they Always Fell"—Miss Pearson
Prayer.....Dr. Fay

The subject was interesting. The hymn was beautiful. Miss Conover read the hymn orally, for the benefit of the Fac. and of her voice. Then, there was the contribution—don't forget the contribution. At least, not in the same way. Gibson, '18, did, when he absented himself from the concert without stopping to consider that he had in his pocket the total contributions of Pres. Hall's Sunday School class. There was a yell for the money, and everybody thought he had decamped with it, but he turned up again at supper time—brought back from afar by the scent of the regular Sunday supper cheese—and everything was made all right. By the way, if it hadn't been for that cash, Gibson might have escaped those two demerits the Fac. give for being absent from chapel. Hard luck, wasn't it!

Anyway, everybody enjoyed the concert. Very evidently, from the enjoyment the students got afterwards by remarking upon all the funny mannerisms in the speakers' delivery. Schowe got the life staked out of him for his habit of stroking his nose at the end of every sentence. To make Willman's goat suddenly disappear, you have only to remind him of his tendency to start every paragraph with "and now." Miss Wesen started her oration with a gasp that took in the whole atmosphere. And so on, so on. Rather mean of the students it was to talk in this way; but everybody wanted to give the Seniors some human treatment for the last time before they take on the dignity of college Alumni.

"Accidents will happen sometimes." When they do, the college rule-book increases in content. When Dobbins, '21, almost cracked his skull in the swimming-pool, the Fac gave out that the rafters in the gymnasium are no place to dive from. And after Davies, '20, got nitric acid into his eye, almost injuring his sight, we began to wonder whether the course in chemistry would be abolished next year.

The Red Cross Auxiliary is beginning to recognize no limit to its effort. Some of the girls pledged themselves to make ten trench pads apiece during the last days of college.

Examinations began June 13th, and will end June 18th. It is real work for the Seniors, because this time there is no chance for re-examination.

Mrs. Wallace D. Edington, nee Miss Jean Newell, ex-'19, made her appearance on the Green this week. She left her husband cooking his meals over the gas jet in Oswego, N. Y., and came to Washington to spend the Summer at the home of Mrs. Hunter D. Edington, her mother-in-law. The doctor had advised her to swap the climate of Washington for that of New York, after an operation made behind her right ear. Miss Newell—we mean Mrs. Wallace D.—gained a great deal of pleasure from re-visiting Fowler Hall, where she used to keep Miss Peet on the hop, skip, and jump, looking after her.

The Baccalaureate Sermon was delivered on Sunday (June 16). Commencement Day occurred the next Wednesday.

A few of the students will remain on Kendall Green during the summer, to ease the shortage in labor on the farm and in repair work. (Why is it that College Hall needs many repairs each summer after we students get done living here?)

The G. C. Athletic Association held an outdoor assembly on the chapel steps for the purpose of awarding honors to the baseball players. Mr. Roy C. Stewart, '99, had charge of the awards.

The meeting started at 6:45 P.M. Monday evening. The girls were still in Fowler Hall, having a meeting of their own or a lecture from Miss Peet—we do not know which. But why wait for them? Mr. Stewart began his introductory remarks, and waxed eloquent. He was half way through, employing all the sporting imagery that is a well-known attribute of his, when the ladies trooped out. Did he cease? Not on your life. He went on perorating. The Co-eds fled toward him in all their daintiness, and he did not move an eye. They took their seats in front of him, their apparel blazing forth in glittering array, but he talked on, steered against anything by his bachelor training. He made the awards and commendations in fine style. Here is the list of them:—

LETTER "G"

Ferguson, '19, Schowe, '18, Houze, '21, Wilson, '20, Pilliod, '19, Dohrmann, '19, Bouehard, '21.

HONORARY "G"

Mr. Cooper, '08, Coach.

HONORABLE MENTION

Hartin, P. C., Fridmore, P. C., Sanders, P. C., Billigmeier, '20, Manager, Rosen, '21, Manager.

SPECIAL MENTION

Deer, P. C.

JUST PLAIN MENTION

The rest of the team.

No honorary "G" could be awarded to either of the two baseball managers, on account of the fact that they divided the season between them: Billy, '20, having had to go home for his health and leave the work to be finished by Rosen, '21.

The Buff and Blue staff made a rapid accomplishment and got the final number out yesterday. It is the Senior number. It was planned to have the cover printed, according to custom, in the class colors; but, because of the impossibility of getting the material, the intention had to be abandoned. The table of contents contains the class history and the class prophecy and cuts of the Senior class and the staff.

The Kansas City correspondent believes that coincidence must be taken for cause. He flatters himself that his remark upon the college column was the occasion of that column mysteriously disappearing from print soon after.

If he will examine, he will notice that the college column was still in existence the two weeks succeeding his disastrous (?) remark.

In fact, if the K. C. correspondent had only kept on stirring up the dust every week, he would have heard from the college more often than he would ever have expected. We Gallaudet students always manage to find time for anything exciting.

Heupel, '18, is going to remain in Washington a few days at least. He has got permission to use the dark-room for a period, so as to finish the photographic orders with which he was swamped this spring.

Misses Olson, '18, and Loveall, '18, have landed jobs in the government service as a starter to their after-college adventures.

The attitude of the men-students toward summer chances is more confident on a general scale than it ever was before. Nearly all of us are sure that we can pick up well paying jobs somewhere, although only a few have already secured positions. Many jobs that would have been grabbed a year or two ago are now being turned down, because of the indications of higher pay elsewhere.

JAMES OGLE KILLED BY A TROLLEY.

Deaf and dumb and shortsighted as well, James Ogle, 50 years old, who made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick of Woodland Avenue, walked in front of a trolley car opposite the lime kiln yesterday afternoon about five o'clock, and struck by the car, sustained injuries from which he died at eight o'clock in St. Luke's Hospital.

Stories of the accident, as told by Motorman Lodge and numerous witnesses, all agree as to the circumstances. There were five cars coming from Orange Lake, in one section, and two of these had already passed, when Ogle, who was on the south side of the street, started across the highway and directly in front of the oncoming car.

The motorman clanged his bell violently and tried to stop, but the pedestrian showed no sign of having heard and the motorman unable to come to a stop, could not prevent the car from crashing into the man.

SKULL BADLY FRACTURED.

The victim's skull was badly fractured as were his legs, and when he was taken to St. Luke's, Dr. Townsend who attended him, said he had but a few hours to live.

Until long after the accident, in fact not until after the man was dead, did his identity become known. There was nothing in his pockets to indicate who he was. The body was taken in charge by Zillig & Buss.—Newburgh Daily News, June 18, 1918.

The funeral of James Ogle, who was killed Sunday afternoon when he walked in front of a trolley car, will be held tomorrow from the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Kilpatrick, of Wood avenue. The interment will be in St. George's cemetery under the direction of John J. Perrot. Mr. Ogle was 43 years old and was the son of the late William Ogle. His father was boss carder for 48 years in the old cotton factory. After the death of Mr. Ogle, the family went to Walkkill where it remained until about a year ago, when upon the death of the oldest brother it returned to Newburgh and made its home with Mrs. Kilpatrick. David Ogle, another brother, died from gas poisoning in the shipyard three years ago. James Ogle, the victim of Sunday's accident, was a graduate of the New York school for deaf-mutes. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Kilpatrick and Miss Kate Ogle and two brothers, Robert and Joseph Ogle.—Newburgh Daily News, June 19, 1918.

ST. LOUIS.

THE CITY SURROUNDED BY THE UNITED STATES.

The National Fraternal Society of the Deaf is a business organization. Its conventions are essentially for the transaction of business. Each local Division, almost without exception, delegates its best available business representative to the Grand Division meetings to the end that the Society's business may be facilitated, expedited and advanced. Division representatives, with scarcely an exception, are busy men who hardly can spare from their private business the time required for attendance at a convention. Busy men, whose time is valuable to themselves and to the Society, naturally prefer to make a convention trip at the least possible expenditure of time, energy and money. The fact that Divisions pay the bills makes no difference. They want to save their Divisions unnecessary expense.

Any one with experience as a member of the Grand Division knows that a convention means work, hard work, first last and nearly all the way through from invocation to sine die adjournment. Being busy men and hard workers bent on the proper transaction of the Society's business, the delegates, of course, hugely enjoy whatever social diversions they may have time for. But with them it is emphatically business before pleasure.

The great world war is on. The end is not in sight. The war preparations which our Government is making are such as to indicate that the war is to continue several years longer. War conditions and ever-increasing war prices prevail, and of necessity must continue to prevail for some time even after the restoration of peace.

Such being the case, logic, common sense and business expediency dictate that the Grand Division meeting in 1921 should be in a conveniently accessible locality, entailing the least possible expense to the Divisions as a whole.

St. Louis, the metropolis of the South-west, is such a city. Draw a circle around St. Louis, Atlanta and Los Angeles. Let the radius of the circle be equal to the distance between St. Louis and Atlanta "as the crow flies." The advantages of St. Louis as the next convention city will be readily apparent.

Within the St. Louis Circle are 29 Divisions, with a membership of 1815, or over half of the total membership of the Society. Just beyond the St. Louis Circle, in direct communication with St. Louis, and nearer to St. Louis than to Atlanta, are five more Divisions with a membership of 216. Within the Atlanta Circle, are fifteen Divisions with a membership of 813. The Circle of which Los Angeles is the center, has two Divisions and a total membership of 986.

St. Louis has excellent and direct through train service from the whole fraternal territory. Twenty-six railroads enter St. Louis.

St. Louis weather is all right. Here is the official temperature of leading cities for the hottest day in 1917:

Philadelphia 102; Kansas City 100; Washington 99; Boston 98½; Chicago 98; New York 98; Milwaukee 98; St. Louis 95. The St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, which knows St. Louis weather, has the following to say in an official statement:

"Summer days, even during a warm wave, are more comfortable than in a lake or marine cities where the humidity is greater and increases as the day advances. The prevailing summer breezes are from the Southwest, coming over 300 miles of Ozark Hills."

The St. Louis Division, No. 24 of the N. F. S. D., cordially invites the Grand Division to meet in St. Louis in 1921. This invitation was extended at Louisville, at Columbus at Omaha, and will be repeated at Philadelphia. A majority of delegates attending the Columbus meeting favored St. Louis, but proportional voting prevailed and Omaha won out by a small margin. Delegates to Philadelphia, mindful of prevailing conditions, will be serving the interests of the Society by favoring St. Louis for the 1921 convention. St. Louis understands how to handle conventions.

The "peerless convention" of the National Association of the Deaf was held in St. Louis in 1904. The papers of the day reflect the event in most complimentary terms: "The greatest gathering of the deaf the world has ever seen." "The Social functions throughout the week were brilliant and carried out on a large scale. Never before at any of the preceding conventions were the social programmes so auspicious as those arranged by the Local Committee of the St. Louis Convention." "There was no misunderstanding or confusion in the whole seven days' program for the edification and entertainment of the sojourner in St. Louis." If the N. F. S. D. comes to St. Louis in 1921, history will go some better in St. Louis in 1921.

TRIO OF DEAF-MUTES BIG SHOW STARS

DUNDON, HOY AND TAYLOR MADE GOOD IN MAJOR BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Baseball has had players who were severely handicapped by physical ailments or loss of limbs who made good on the diamond. There has been the one-eyed and the one-armed ball tossers, and even a few who made a creditable showing minus a real leg. The athlete who enters any branch of sport minus his hearing carries the most severe handicap. The loss of speech does not cut so much of a figure in baseball; in fact, it would be better if some players didn't talk quite so much. Useless talking is lost energy.

Edward Dundon was a right-handed hurler who never questioned an umpire's decision, whether it was right or wrong, and Dundon was up against some poor umpiring in his day. Dundon never paid the least bit of attention to the coaches, for this hurler was a mute.

William E. Hoy was the second mute to gain fame on the diamond and announced his arrival in the big league by striking out three times in succession, before the delusive delivery of a certain Laddell Titeomb, southpaw hurler extraordinary, then starting for the New York Giants. In the fourth time up Hoy made a single, and it was the first of 2,333 base hits he annexed during the fifteen seasons he started in the majors.

HOY STARTED IN '88

Hoy blew into the select circles of big leaguedom in 1888 with the Washington team, then in the National league. As a base-runner and run-getter Hoy classed with the best, an average of .078 runs per game would class him considerably above the recognized run-getter. In stealing bases the voiceless lad was a veritable demon. He led the league the very first season out by annexing eighty-three stolen bases. A batting average for his entire career in the big show of .292 shows that he lacked just a few strides of getting a seat in the glory circle of the select, who battled .300 in their life in the big show.

In 1900 the name of Luther Taylor flashed across the horizon of baseball. Of the seventeen recruits tried out by the New York management in 1900-01 only the names of Mathewson and Taylor remained on the roster, and for the nine seasons which followed Taylor, the deaf and dumb hurler, was a star on the New York Nationals, and in four of those seasons was a sensation in the pitching game.

TAYLOR ONLY N. L. DEAF-MUTE.

Taylor was the only mute hurler to break into the select circles of the National League. By winning three out of four games he pitched in 1900, Luther was granted a further trial, and in 1901, with the Giants, as a team, going poorly, Taylor, with Matty, by sheer grit and pitching ability, made good. In the eight seasons that Taylor was a member of the Giants' pitching staff he won 116 games out of a possible 212, a grand average in games won of .547. The season of 1905 was the banner season of the great mute hurler, and his grand pitching was a factor in landing the Giants in first place.

TEN YEARS SINCE LAST QUIT.

Taylor pitched his last game for the New York Nationals in 1908. With his departure the big leagues have had no more mute players, and it is remarkable how few of these silent boys have made the big show, and one of the boys who couldn't say a word or hear the roar of applause or abuse was a star in the big minor leagues for many seasons. A wonderful first-sacker was Kihm, and a terrific hitter, but he never reached the big league. These mutes were few in number, but possessed the true ability to play the national game in spite of the heavy handicap placed upon them.—E.E.
